

SolarBuddy

Philanthropic Teambuilding Session

More than Just a Teambuilding Program

SolarBuddy is a simple way for purpose driven organizations to make a difference while also increasing employee engagement. This 2-hour team building session, led by an experienced HR professional, empowers employees through a creative hands-on experience, delivers excellent ROI to employers and reinforces a culture of giving back. During this teambuilding session each participant will build a renewable energy-powered light that will be gifted to a child living in energy poverty to help them to study after dusk and improve their education outcomes.

Teambuilding Objectives and Outcomes

- Learn about the 800 million people living in energy poverty, renewable energy and global citizenship
- Make a solar light and write a personal letter to your buddy
- Illuminate futures of children living in energy poverty
- Have an unforgettable experience with your team that connects to who you are, where you are going, and how you will get there

Giving you and your team the performance edge
